

Village begins to smoke out improper hook-ups

NEW LENOX — The hunt for illegal connections with the sanitary sewer system is on at New Lenox and the village board is determined on prosecution of property owners guilty of infraction of the village and state laws on the subject.

Hulett Corporation, an Oak Forest contracting firm specializing on sewer and water installations, had been retained to conduct smoke tests on New Lenox sewers. The board agreed on separating the village into sections and having the testing done a section at a time.

It was estimated by John Djerf, of Robert E. Hamilton Associates, village engineers, who had been in touch with Hulett Corporation, that the over all cost to the village would run about $400 a day.

Hulett's had told Djerf that if the sewer lines had broken tile or were clogged in some manner, the smoke tests would be limited to about 2,500 feet a day. If the lines are in good condition about 8,000 feet could be tested in a day, he said.

Expect Nov. 1 start

One bill, one collection

WILL COUNTY — Collection of real estate and personal property taxes—delayed a long time this year—is expected to begin Nov. 1, according to Will County Treasurer Kent Bosworth.

He also announced that he has set the delinquent date for Dec. 15. Property owners, he said, should have their tax bills by Nov. 1.

"This will give property owners 45 days in which to pay their taxes," Bosworth said. "In normal circumstances real estates taxes are paid in two installments, the first one being June 1, and the second falling on Sept. 1. The personal property tax is due and payable in full June 1."

"As everyone effected knows this has

The first tests will be made in the north section of the village. The board has received numerous complaints from that area about flooded basements and yards. Whether roof water is responsible for this condition can be determined through smoke tests, it was said.

Workers block off a section of sewer at manholes and inject smoke in the mains under pressure, smoke bombs and compressed air do the job. The smoke infiltrates all the laterals and the connections leading into homes and buildings.

The smoke comes through the ground where there are breaks in the sewer lines and if it comes pouring out of the gutters running along the roofs, the owner of that property can expect to be charged with violating the law which prohibits the use of sanitary sewers for storm waters.

Downspouts are not supposed to be connected with the sewer but are supposed to loose the roof water on the ground.

There are 35,000 feet of sewer in the village and Djerf estimated the cost of testing the entire system would run about $5,000.

Trustee Lutz Guenther recommended that the village be divided into sections, that $1,500 be authorized for conducting the tests in the north section and "going on from there." This was put into a motion, which was carried.

Trustee Francis Miller, head of the sewer and water committee, said he did not think the costs were out of line. "There is a lot of water going into the sewage treatment plant when it rains," he said. "We have to do something."

He also pointed out that enforcement of the provision against connecting downspouts with the sewer was important and the board agreed. Each day the violation continues, it was pointed out, is a separate offense.

James Warning, acting mayor, said it was time something be done to remedy the excess water problem. "We spend money on other things and certainly we can spend something on such an important matter as this."

Early village drawings feature of public library

FRANKFORT — Prints of drawings, dating back to 1873 in Frankfort's yesterday, are now on sale at the Public Library, 27 Ash St., it was announced by the Frankfort Art Historical Society.

These drawings are suitable for framing, according to a spokesman for the historical group, and certainly few could hold back because of the price. The prints are selling for 35 cents each, or $1.50 for a set of eight.

One of the drawings is of Bauman's Tavern, now over a century old, standing in its original location at Kansas and Ash streets. Also pictured is the building housing Gracie's Tavern, but in the village's younger days sheltered a drug store, at one time and an agriculture implement business.

Also in the set is a drawing of the building now used by August J. Santoro as a law office, and before that was occupied as a barber shop on the ground floor. And just a few steps east the space taken up now as a driveway for the Frankfort Volunteer Fire Department, was filled by Herschbach's Hardware Store when these drawings were done.

The Levi Doty home, now the residence of Dr. Claude Otto, is one of three homes among the drawings. The others were the John McDonald home, and the Cleveland farm house, at Wolf Road and U.S. 30. U.S. 30 was known as the Lincoln Highway before its numerals were pinned on but when this drawing was made it might have been called the Mokena Road, the Frankfort or the Joliet-Chicago Heights Road.

Eventually the Frankfort Area historical Society will have figures, facts and artifacts of the region readily available, according to its spokesman.

Exams for deputies

WILL COUNTY — The Will County Merit Commission is accepting applications now for an examination for appointment as a deputy sheriff.

The examination is to be held early in November, the date to be announced later. Application forms are available at the office of Mrs. Mary Low, secretary of the Merit Commission, in the court house at Joliet.

pointed out that it was impossible at this late date. "Paying their taxes in two installments now would be costly," Bosworth said. "If tax payments were put over until after the first of the year they could be deducted by people in preparing their 1972 income tax returns."

"Then too," he went on, "there are quite a number of taxing bodies that have had to issue tax anticipation warrants because they have not received any tax money. Some of these taxing bodies are paying six percent interest so the sooner they can pay off these warrants the better for them."

Under normal circumstances the tax money has been distributed by this time of year. But this hasn't been a normal year taxwise. In the first place 1971 was a quadrennial year, which means that all the real estate had to be revalued.

Oren Pommeroy, supervisor of assessments, in his aim to get a multiplier of one from the state pushed valuations up sharply. The state recommends assessing property at 50 percent of the fair market value. When this is done a multiplier of one is awarded such county.

If the valuations are too low a multiplier is assigned that is supposed to bring it up to the 50 percent mark. Last year Will County had a multiplier of 1.13, which means that the assessed valuation had to be multiplied by 13 percent. The tax rate is x-amount per $100 assessed valuation. Multiply one by the other and there is your tax bill.

In raising valuations Pommeroy encountered a storm of protests. Some 22,000 taxpayers filed protests with the Board of Review. That body has established a revised list of assessed valuations on which their tax bills will be made.

To publish this revised list would take too long, it was explained, so the board of review turned the job over to the data processing department and cards are being made out for mailing to each property owner. This is not your tax bill. It is the revised assessed valuation. It may be higher, or it may be lower than the one published some months ago but it is the one that counts in making out your bill.

Coins to be displayed

HARVEY — The Club of Illinois Numismatists, Homewood, Illinois, will present a coin show Sunday, October 29th, from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m. The exhibition will be held at the Holiday Inn — Harvey located at I-80, I-294 and Halsted Streets.

Plaques for First and Second Place will be awarded full club members in each of five categories: Gold-Commemorative-Proof; Paper Money; United States Coins; Foreign Coins; and Miscellaneous (Medals, Tokens or other Numismatic Material). Junior Club members will also be awarded First and Second Place Plaques — no categories. Non-members may compete for First and Second Place awards — no categories. Those exhibitors not winning an award will be presented a ribbon of appreciation for participating.

Persons who display are required to exhibit from 11 a.m. until 5 p.m. Free Door Prizes will be awarded hourly. Applications for coin dealers' tables may be secured from Mr. Edward Blaha, Post Office Box 171, Markham, Illinois 60426.

Driving? Party at home

October 1 is now "D" day for those who drink and drive, the D-for-deadline for Illinois' new "implied consent" law.

As of that date, any motorist who is arrested on a charge of driving while intoxicated (DWI) is subject to a scientific test of his blood alcohol content. Results of the test will be admissible in court as evidence when the individual comes to trial on the "DWI" charge.

The law also presumes that in return for the privilege of operating a motor vehicle in Illinois, a person is giving his "implied consent" to a scientific test of his state of intoxication in case of arrest on a "DWI" charge. Moreover, he may not object to the introduction of the test results as evidence against him in court.

According to the Illinois State Bar Association, the law itself states how the results of the test are to be interpreted. The type of testing device to be used in Illinois is the breathalyzer which measures the percentage by weight of alcohol in a person's blood from a breath sample.

The law provides that if the test shows 0.10 per cent or more by weight of alcohol in a person's blood "... it shall be presumed that the person was under the influence of alcohol." Especially when coupled with the usual signs of drunkenness, such as slurred speech and lack of coordination, such a presumption will be difficult to refute, the ISBA notes.

St. Michael open house Friday night

ORLAND PARK — St. Michael's School, 14345 S. Highland Ave., will have its 12th annual open house at 8 p.m. Friday, Sept. 29, in the school auditorium.

Sister Mary Eunice, principal, will speak to parents about school procedures, goals and the varied programs offered by the school, particularly the new physical education program being initiated this year.

Parents will have an opportunity to meet the faculty and tour the School board activities will be discussed and the nominees also will be given an opportunity to address the parents.

A faculty reception, sponsored by St. Michael Council of Catholic Women, will be held following the meeting. Refreshments will be served.

This reception was planned to give parents an opportunity to talk with returning faculty members and to meet new teachers.

The New Teachers are Miss Christine Zurawski, Miss Diane Wegner, Miss Mary Jayne Quinn and Mrs. Kathleen Foley, ungraded primary; Miss Julie Ready, fourth grade; Miss Judith Sabo, fifth grade; Mrs. Phyllis Tworek, sixth grade; Paul Fornek, junior high science; Miss Mary Byrne, junior high math; John McCarthy, coach and English; and Sister Ellen Joseph, school librarian.

Freeh's Inn, located on historic Sauk Trail just east of Governors Highway (Route 54), is a popular spot with the homecoming commuter.

Albie and Jill Freeh are proud of their smorgasbord. A recent visitor to the restaurant declared the "barbecued ribs are the best ever." The Freehs have been serving their hot and cold smorgasbord luncheon fare for a long time. Dinnertime is mostly steaks and seafood. Albie presides over the bar, a pleasant spot to stop before dining. He has been proprietor of the Inn for 27 years.

COUNTRY CLUB HILLS — Tinley Park and Oak Forest High School Students, parents and friends are invited to Hillcrest High School for the annual District 228 College Night to be held Thursday, Sept. 28, starting at 7 o'clock. Hillcrest High School is located at 175th Street and Crawford Avenue, Country Club Hills.

Counselor Ken G. Kling of Hillcrest says representatives will be found in the cafeteria and various classrooms. Some 80 to 85 colleges, junior colleges, and universities will be represented plus the U. S. Service Academies and Military Services.

Colleges will be grouped into four one-half hour sessions. From 7-7:30 p.m. and from 8:30-9 p.m. large state universities and large junior colleges will be grouped for your convenience. That leaves the small colleges to be grouped from 7:30-8:30 p.m.

TINLEY PARK — The Boys' Baseball Annual Banquet will be held Oct. 7, 6:30 p.m., at the high school cafeteria. Awards will be made and a special speaker presented. Tickets may be purchased at the Memorial Park Field House on Saturday, Sept. 23 and Sept. 30, 10 a.m. - 2 p.m. No tickets will be sold after Sept. 30 or at the door prior to the banquet.

are presented at the award night. Record keeping is another learning experience which is part of the total 4-H program.

Awards are given at the county and state level in project work and in Outstanding 4-H Member Reports. The reports detail the total work done in the 4-H program as well as the 4-H member's participation in the community in which they live.

Those "very outstanding" 4-H members will be given a chance to compete at the state and national level for trips, bonds, scholarships and other awards.

The 4-H program is for young people, ages 9 to 19. It is a learning experience as well as a fun experience; as the youths plan many parties, hayrides, dances and other social events throughout the year.

To organize a 4-H club a leader is needed and at least five members; boys or girls or a mix. Youths or parents who are interested are requested to call Mrs. Ruth P. Hay, assistant extension adviser for South Cook County at 532-4369.

There are 4-H clubs throughout the south Cook County area and the Extension Service is interested in assisting in the organization of additional clubs.

School shares publication cost

MOKENA — The action of the state legislature in putting Veterans Day back to Nov. 11, where it had been has caused the Mokena school board to shorten its school calendar by one day, which will make June 7 the last day of school.

Nov. 11 was originally observed as Armistice Day, because it was on that date in 1918 the Allies and the Germans entered upon a truce that brought the fighting of World War I to a close. Then not too many years ago the name was changed to Veterans Day and switched to October under the Monday holiday plan.

This year it was to have been observed Oct. 23, a Monday, and would have been a holiday for school kids. Now Oct. 23 will be a school day. Nov. 11 falls on Saturday, so school officials shortened the school year a day. Graduation exercises will be held June 6.

Other business before the board: — The Mokena United Methodist Church was granted permission to use three classrooms at Carpenter Street School on Sundays. — the district will pay the charges for teachers to take a psychology of learning course to be given by the Illinois State University Extension at Willowcrest School.

— a discussion was held on the proposed Doogan Farm development. A 10-acre school site and cash contributions to schools have been agreed to in accordance with the village ordinance, it was reported to the board.

It is the hope of school officials that the site will be adjacent to the site to be given in the Owens Land Trust development. The two major figures in the Doogan Farm development, Sidney Bloom and Tom Phillips, also are connected with the Owens development.

— Robert Thornton, of the auditing firm of Grumley, Dicke, Thornton and Clark, reviewed the annual budget with the board. His one recommendation was to place summer teachers' payroll on an accrual basis.

— Robert Wriston and Arthur Drummond were hired as custodians at Willowcrest School on a part-time basis.

— Donations of $100 were made to the Mokena Auxiliary Police and the Mokena Volunteer Fire Department for their dedication, loyalty and services at all school activities when large crowds are in attendance.

— The grade school and Lincoln-Way High School District will share the $230 publication costs for the ordinance adopted by the Mokena village board under which housing developers make a voluntary contribution of land or money to the schools. This contribution takes up some of the lag in tax payments, it was pointed out. New homes are occupied for at least 18 months, it was found, before any taxes are paid.

— The board was served with notice that it is the defendant in a personal injury suit by Mrs. Phyllis, in behalf of her son, Mark.

The boy was recovering from a broken leg and with use of a cane had been able to resume his work at school. He was again injured, the suit alleges, and charges school authorities with negligence in failing to properly supervise the boy.

New industry will come

Don't need incentive

In this year of burgeoning tax reform the plight of the taxpayer is finally getting some of the attention it deserves.

Through the public sounding board new tax proposals — some modest and some outrageous — are coming forward.

We welcome each of them because they at least prove that somebody somewhere in high office is considering the dilemma of onerous taxes.

Latest among the proposals is a string of recommendations made last week by Harry Semrow, commissioner of the county's Board of Appeals, the agency which hears the gripes of the taxpayers firsthand.

Semrow's recommendations encompass many facets of the complicated tax question and we greet them with either joy or dismay, based on how each one of them could affect the suburban resident and businessman.

First, Semrow has correctly pointed out that a major culprit in Cook County tax structures is the multiplier factor, a device which is aimed at bringing each county's tax rate to the same level, despite the differences in the valuations of Illinois counties.

Semrow called for public hearings before the multiplier is determined, a practice we consider basic to responsive and open government.

Further, Semrow has encouraged the creation of a three-man review board to decide on the complaint of any assessor who comes forward on behalf of his county to protest the multiplier. That sounds good, too, but the thornier question of who would appoint such a board and what would be their powers raises the specter of judgment by political clout. We prefer direct appeal not to an appointed board but to an existing state agency such as the Department of General Services.

Lastly, we regard Semrow's major proposal concerning tax incentives for industry to be inappropriate for suburban Cook County.

Semrow is calling for major tax cuts for developers of commercial and industrial property in the county; he says developers — and owners of new single family homes — should not have to pay full taxes for the first five years.

Semrow cites similar tax incentives in 17 other states as precedent for his plan.

For the most part, however, those states are southern or border states which do indeed want to attract development.

In suburban Cook County there is no problem at all of attracting development. There is instead a serious problem of controlling development and of using the land properly.

In Southwest suburban Cook County, Semrow's tax incentives would be like throwing gasoline on a bonfire.

All this should not be interpreted as harsh criticism of Harry Semrow or his plan. Many of his ideas are good, particularly his urging of serious reform in the assessment and county multiplying system.

We urge him and other tax reformers, however, to consider the suburbs for what they have become: Rapidly developing mini-cities with problems and solutions different from the metropolitan core.

On second thought

Don't call Nell. She's out

By Glenn Logan

There is no doubt that when Don Ameche, acting for Alexander Graham Bell, invented the telephone he performed a great service for mankind. Womankind too, we hasten to add to head off any comment from chauvinistic members of women's lib. Yes, the telephone has been of great importance to everyone. It can be most exasperating at times too.

Telephones are everywhere, from Australia to Zanzibar but the U.S. of A., has more telephones than any other country in the world. I read that some place, I think it was a pamphlet put out by the Bell telephone system so imagine it is true. It is probably because there are so many teenagers. I wonder what a kid would miss most if the choice were thrust upon him—the telephone or rock records.

In Great Britain people still write notes or letters, or send telegrams but in our country the telephone is first choice of communication. For many persons the major use for a pen or pencil is to jot down phone numbers.

There are times, of course, one gets provoked with the telephone, especially when it conks out. I don't know how it is with you but the minute I find out the telephone isn't working is when I think of a dozen calls I should make, and I keep trying although I know it's not going to do any good. Same thing as leaving your wrist watch at the watchmaker's. You know you aren't wearing it but you keep looking at your wrist to see what time it is.

But a dead phone is not as aggravating as one that sounds like it is working but you can't get through on it. Then there is the frustrating phone—you hear the people at the other end perfectly but they can't hear you, and hang up, or vice versa.

Keep your cool, though. There is no use in getting your blood pressure up over something you can't do anything about anyway. Granted that it is maddening to get a recording several times hand running to the effect that the number you are dialing is not in service at this time, especially if you have taken special pains to dial it right. The recording will wind up telling you to wait for the operator to answer if you need assistance.

I have found that you will save time by ignoring this advice, hanging up and starting all over again. That is what the operator will tell you to do anyway.

"Your call should go through," she says, completely ignoring the somber message from the recording that the number being dialed is no longer in service. "Just dial it again." This can go on for a long time but usually the mysterious element that has been blocking the call clears up as quickly as it came and maybe on the next try you are successful.

If you have more than one phone—I mean with different numbers, not extensions—changing phones will likely clear up your trouble. When the phone that has been giving you trouble finds you can get along very well without it, it stops being contrary and goes to work again.

I must admit seething sometimes when my efforts to get an operator to answer take a long, long time. I visualize them chatting and laughing as they go through a seven-course meal in leisurely fashion, completely ignoring the lights on their boards that by this time, I imagine, would light a football field.

I can think of things I could say on such occasions but I don't because I remember the many times unknown operators have helped me and have gone far and beyond the duties as outlined in their manuals.

Actually, when one considers all the things needed to make a telephone and all the thousands of things that must be done to have them operate perfectly so as to enable you not only to talk across town but around the world, the surprising thing is not that the telephone gives us trouble now and then. The surprising thing is that it doesn't give more trouble than it does.

I remember the big old box telephone that was anchored to the wall and one had to crank it to make contact with the operator. In the early days of the telephone, especially in the smaller cities and towns, most of the subscribers know the operators and the shifts they worked.

And when she told you something you just weren't hearing a whistling virtuoso bearing down on Dixie. There was none of that "number...out of service now"...business. She would simply tell you Mrs. Jones...or Laura...or Evelyn as the case might be, wasn't home.

If she thought Mrs. Jones wanted you to know where she was or that you really had to get in touch with her, she would tell you where she had gone and if there was a telephone there would give you a connection.

They say they have equipment now that can trace people for you if they just leave the numbers where they can be reached. There are all kinds of telephonic equipment now that no one would have believed possible when the telephone was new—there were a lot of people then who didn't believe in the telephone, even after seeing it. Tell them there would be a day when talkers would also be able to see pictures of each other and you might have been loaded in the loony bin.

You can get prayers, weather reports and the time by dialing and someone has published a book to teach you to play tunes on those touch-tone jobs.

The phone companies are going for electronic controls now and there is no end to the improvements and uses that can be expected. Probably the day will come when all you will have to do is think of a number and you will get an instant connection.

Army's gone outdoors!

HARVEY — The Army's Combat Developments Experimentation Command (CDEC) has been included in the "Unit of Choice" enlistment system. This enlistment option will allow the qualified young man to train and work for at least 16 months at Fort Ord and Hunter Liggett Military Reservation, California.

The option is for the man who likes outdoor living. CDEC's mission is to test new equipment for future use by the Army. Testing is done at the Hunter Liggett Military Reservation in California's Santa Lucia Mountains south of the command's home at Fort Ord.

Men at CDEC helped to develop the "air mobile" concept to fully utilize the helicopter. They also tested the special instrument which allows a man to see by starlight.

The reservation has 168,000 acres of mountains, lakes, timber and wildlife. Off duty hours can be filled with a wide variety of activities. San Francisco, San Jose, and Monterey are all within easy driving distance.

It's my opinion

We can't afford all this service

Once again the public is being sold a bill of goods. There are certain stores that are remaining open till midnight and in some cases 24 hours a day. I hope people think long and hard of all the consequences of this before they jump on the band wagon to have the butchers remain in these stores for longer hours.

We are told of the great conveniences of this practice. You can wait till the children are in bed before you shop, the store is not crowded that late at night, in households where husband and wife are working you have more time to get your shopping done. While all these reasons are true, they don't show the full picture.

I believe people should look at both sides of the coin before they decide an issue. Stores remaining open for still longer hours will naturally have more expenses.

There are added crews and utilities, not to mention the increase in security expense. With the late hours you have less personnel in the store and a greater chance of robberies.

Also this is a perfect set up for shoplifters, there is only a small crew on duty so there is less chance of detection.

Who pays for the merchandise that people steal and the electricity, etc.? The customer is the one that covers overhead in a business by paying higher prices. There is a certain amount you don't pay for and that is what the company squeezes out of its help by making them cover the hours used at night by working harder or cutting their daytime hours. And when the store help

Congress sees extended life for inflation

New laws, passed this summer, provide for the biggest increase in benefits ever recorded in the history of the U.S. social security system—a 20 percent boost. There are also after 1974, to be automatic adjustments in the amount of payroll taxes collected and the benefits to be received as wage levels and consumer prices go up. Apparently Congress knows its own spending habits and plans for a long future of inflation.

The current unprecedented expansion of the social security program is the subject of a Special Report by Business Week magazine, entitled "The forces reshaping Social Security." The program, which began as a modest scheme to provide a floor of protection to retired workers, is rapidly turning into a national pension program. Its growth has been explosive. As Business Week points out, in 1950 the social security payroll tax collected was 2.9 billion; and by 1970, it had increased to $43 billion, outstripping the corporate income tax and becoming the federal government's second largest source of funds—topped only by the personal income tax. It is pointed out that, "In the same period, benefits jumped 37-fold to $37.9 billion, and they now account for some 20 percent of all federal expenditures."

The massive expansion of social security is accounted for by its equally massive acceptance by the American public. The basis for that acceptance may be changing, for a number of reasons. Up till now, social security beneficiaries have been getting a very good deal, indeed. Social security checks have been constantly increasing, and virtually none of the retired people or disabled individuals receiving those checks has paid social security taxes throughout his working life.

But, younger workers now paying into the system face a different future. As economist Milton Friedman has pointed out, Youngsters currently entering the system are getting a raw deal. . . . To finance the excess payments to the growing number of retired, taxes have had to be raised repeatedly. As a result, the benefits promised younger workers are much smaller than the equivalent of the taxes paid on their wages."

The matter of cost is another factor. Social security didn't used to take such a big chunk out of the paycheck—now it's a major item. "As recently as 1954," says Business Week, "the contribution was still only $72. But since then the maximum tax has grown more than sixfold, and it is now slated to reach $660 each for worker and employer by 1974."

The time seems to be coming when the American people and Congress must realistically consider the full and long-range impact of the nation's far-flung and rapidly expanding social security system.

gets their hours cut, who pays for this service? The customer suffers.

In the past, customers have been able to do their shopping in the hours 9 to 9 Monday through Friday, and 9 to 6 on Saturday. Then the stores decided to open the stores on Sundays, and for a long time, they were not very successful from a business standpoint. Over the years however, they managed to train people like sheep to shop at these times, telling the people how nice it was for them. Soon, all types of businesses were opening up on Sunday, to keep the supplies inside the stores. And then more and more varieties of stores opened, until today, you can hardly tell Sunday from any other workday. It is a shame the day set aside for the family in years gone by had to go by the wayside for what some call "progress." Now they are trying to take the evenings from us and telling us it is for our own good. Are we to be turned into 24 hour robots?

The country is now in a fight against inflation, but we are encouraged to demand more services and more conveniences.

Every time we get an added convenience, we should stop and think, this is not for free. We pay for it by high prices. Can we really afford it on our over-taxed budgets?

Write your legislators. Write the companies. Tell the managers in the stores we can't afford all the conveniences they want to give us.

Letters to the Editor

Editor,
Late in the year of 1961, President John F. Kennedy said, "When I talked of the New Frontier, I was not talking about the geography of this country. . . . I was talking about the spirit which has built our country; the kind of spirit which can build our country again."

For millions of Americans, the days of the "New Frontier" are but a memory in our history. . . . at least temporarily. For the citizens of the great state of Illinois, however, the days of "Camelot" and a new frontier can again become reality. In my opinion, Dan Walker is a man that can once again restore dignity, leadership, pride and confidence in state government.

Illinois has produced the Lincoln's, Dirksen's, Stevenson's, Derwinski's, Percy's, Daley's, Pucinski's and a round of other great Americans from both major parties. It is somewhat shameful and quite embarrassing to hear people refer to such a great and productive state as the "leader and founder of 'shoe-box and race-track' politics." I believe Dan Walker can and will build the great reputation of Illinois once again.

John Kennedy also once said, "Our problems are man-made; therefore, they can be solved by man." I am confident Dan Walker is the man who can end the major problems and citizens' dissatisfactions in Illinois. He can do so, I believe, by reacting to the outcries from our citizens concerning patronage, unfair taxation, better education for our children, wastage of tax dollars, etc. The voice of the people years to be heard. Here is a man that is not only willing to listen, but is compelled to respond.

Illinois has been fortunate to have been graced by the Lord with many great political leaders. Let us not refuse another great American from offering his service, skill and ability to the great State of Illinois. We can, and have, watched multiple administrations pass without witnessing the likes of a Dan Walker. Hopefully, in November, the knock-off-opportunity will not be ignored and once again the "torch will be passed to a new generation of Americans."

Elect Dan Waker Governor of Illinois.
Respectfully,
LEN NEUZILL, Trustee
City of Oak Forest, Illinois

Farm to city move slows

WASHINGTON — The move from farm to city may be coming to a halt. A new era of economic and social growth for rural America may already be launched.

These are two conclusions to be drawn from various reports on the progress of rural America, from the arid stretches of the southwest to the green fields of the southeast. They also are indications that the much talked about goals of rural development are beginning to emerge as realized accomplishments for an increasing number of communities.

Some signs of the recharged energies within rural areas are:

More jobs: During the 1960's nonfarm jobs increased by 39 percent in the countryside, a slightly better rate than the 34 percent increase in metropolitan areas. This growth rate has been high in completely rural counties as well as in those with cities of up to 50,000 population.

Farm-exodus ending: The farm population has dropped to fewer than 9 1/2 million persons. With so few people remaining on the nation's farms, little further decline in the population is possible. As the farm-to-city migration dwindles to a negligible level, continued gains in nonagricultural jobs will have a more visible impact on the overall economy and population of rural areas.

Greater federal commitment to rural areas: The government is stepping up its investment in rural America manifold. For example, funds earmarked for housing in rural areas amount to $2.2 billion this year, four times the 1969 level; sewer and water programs are allocated $342 million this year, nearly twice the 1969 level. Total funds devoted to rural development efforts by the Department of Agriculture will amount to $3.5 billion this year — four times the level in 1961 and twice as much as in 1969.

More important than the statistics or the governmental expenditures, however, is the determined individual in community after rural community who resolves to solve the problem on his own, who takes action to set his own neighborhood on the road to progress.

In Tulsa, Tex., for example, local leaders set out to combat decaying business, blighted housing. As a result of their efforts, the community has 386 new low-cost homes and jobs and incomes are up because of the construction work. In North Carolina, citizens mounted a driver education campaign as a small but vital part of their statewide effort to connect more rural workers with more better paying jobs.

Rural development is an idea whose time has come — mostly because increasing numbers of local groups are taking it upon themselves to make sure that it does.

Coroner's fate hanging

By ROGER CAPETTINI

COOK COUNTY — The life or death of the Cook County Coroner's office will be in the hands of the voters when they go to the polls in the November general election.

But the County Board still will have a voice in the matter.

The fate of the coroner's office was left to the voters when the County Board, voted unanimously to place a referendum on the November ballot.

The board, however, was careful to retain power over the office by changing the wording of the referendum question from the way it was proposed originally.

The ballot question will ask if the elective coroner's office should be eliminated and replaced with a medical examiner's system, "headed by a licensed physician to be chosen by the president of the Cook County Board of Commissioners with the advise and consent of the members of the Cook County Board of Commissioners, to be effective Dec. 6, 1976."

That wording differs from the question proposed Aug. 7 by County Commissioner Floyd T. Fulle of Des Plaines which stipulated the medical examiner system would be "headed by a licensed forensic pathologist chosen and directed by a commission composed of the chiefs of the pathology departments of the major medical schools," in the county.

The resolution to place the question on the ballot, and to change the wording of the question was approved by the board after Dr. Andrew Toman, current county coroner, said he "fully approves" of the resolution.

The coroner suggested, however, the chief medical examiner, if approved by the voters, should be appointed by the county board so the "public will maintain some interest in the selection, and conduct of the medical examiner." That way, Dr. Toman said, "The people will still have a voice." He said if the board did not appoint the examiner the "direct line of authority would be broken."

HARLEM AVENUE'S Settler's Cemetery

A Story of Those Concerned

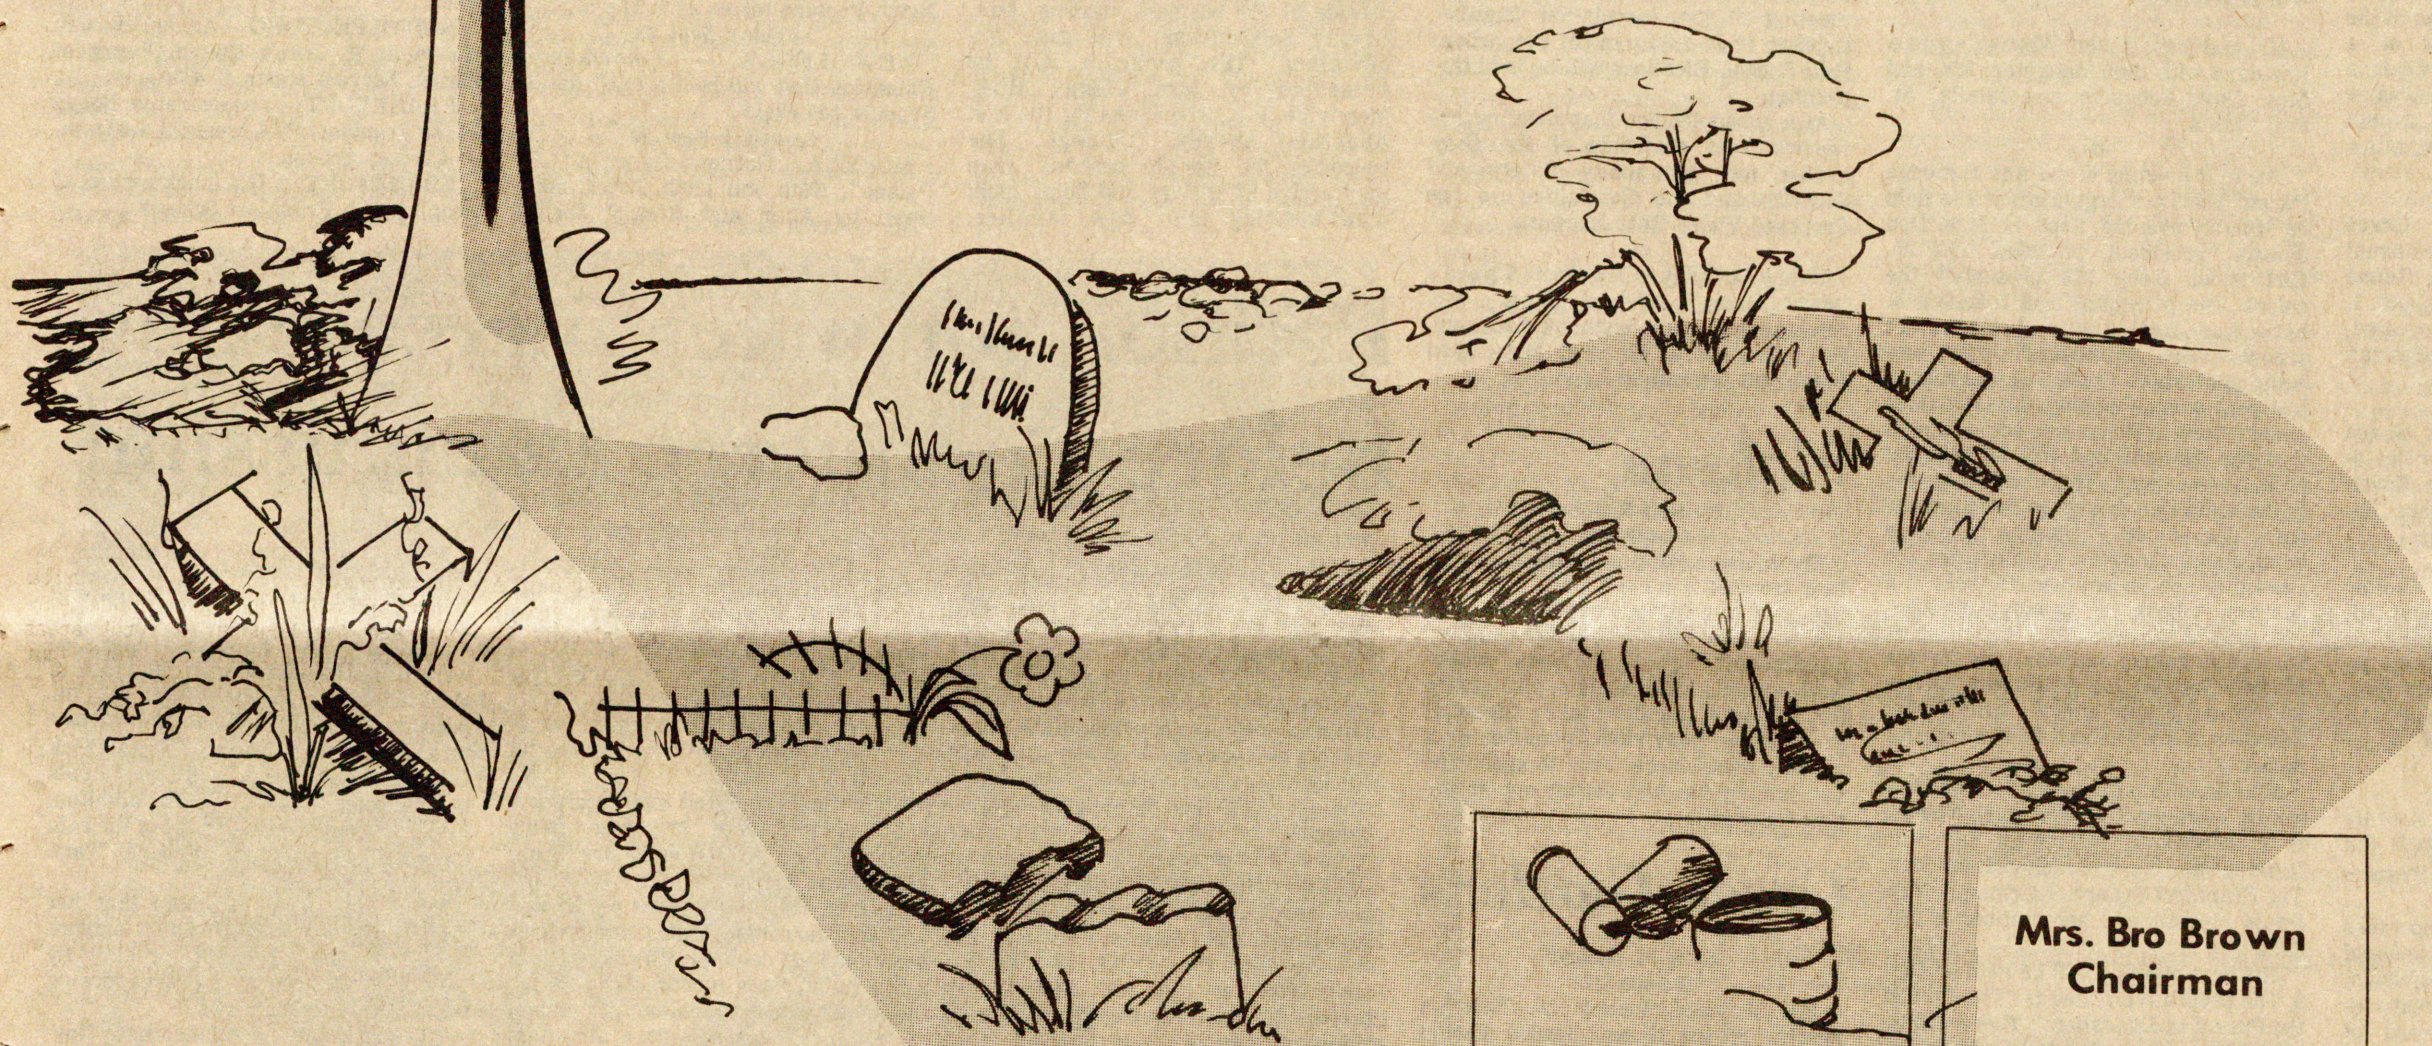

Under the shadow of the new water tower on busy Harlem Avenue is a cemetery which contains the headstones of many settlers of this southwest corner of Cook County. The stones date back to as early as 1809.

Once owned by a long disbanded German Methodist Church the plot is now operated by the Orland and Tinley Park Cemetery Association.

Through the efforts of Orland Park Mayor Melvin Doogan and a special committee headed by Mrs.

Bro Brown the cemetery area has been cleaned, mowed and fenced. Righting the fallen stones and planting of sod is planned. The Village of Orland Park will keep the area mowed in conjunction with mowing the water tower area.

Numerous individuals, companies and organizations have contributed to the Settlers' Cemetery project. Those who have assisted with cash donations, and donations of labor, material and machines are listed below.

Members of the Arbury Hills Lions Club will be canvassing Frankfort Square Thursday, Oct. 5, from 7:00 p.m. until 9:30 p.m. offering candy in return for donations in their annual Candy Day for the Blind. The Lions Club is also conducting a membership drive in this area; men interested in joining the organization should contact Joseph Nyder (312) 479-5082 or Ronald Leto (312) 479-5306.

Mr. and Mrs. John Siwinski, 308 Holly Lane, celebrate their second wedding anniversary Tuesday, Oct. 3. The Siwinskis recently became a family of three with the addition of a son, John William, who is almost four months old.

Frankfort Square now boasts a population of 1,000 according to Ed Spence, sales manager at Hoffman-Rosner's Frankfort Square offices. There are 300 families here, with 125 in the quadminiums and 175 in single family homes. Based on national averages of number of persons per family, 1,000 is a close approximation. What Mr. Spence refers to as a "modest park" has been added to the area near the lake on St. Francis Road. The swings, slides and so forth are intended for the use of the residents of the entire development. Arrangements to move the "gazebo" from the sales office area to the new playground are now being made.

Future plans for the lake include stocking it with fish. Mr. Spence is opting for bass, in preference to perch or bluegills. This he hopes will please the area's adult fishermen; unfortunately, obtaining the bass will take a little longer, but he anticipates having the lake stocked this fall.

While the lake was designed to support fish year-round, it will also provide an ice-skating rink when frozen in mid-winter. Mr. Spence expects a warming-hut to be built near-by soon.

Jubilant over the birth of their fourth child are Mr. and Mrs. James Garrigan, 317 Jonquil Lane. The baby, Kelly Elizabeth, weighed six pounds, 11 ounces when she was born Sept. 19. She has a brother, John, and two sisters, Audrey and Leslie.

Further nominations for officers of the Frankfort Square Homeowner's Association can still be made. A petition signed by at least fifteen area residents must accompany the written nomination, and must be filed by 7:30 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 30, with H. D. Brown, 246 Laurel; Harry Jones, 321 Greenfield; Andy Houston, 337 Greenfield or Mrs. Boyd Anderson, 311 Greenfield. In addition, the nominations must then be made again on a motion duly seconded at the next general meeting of the Association Tuesday, October 10 at 7:30 p.m. at the Arbury Hills School. Elections will be held that evening.

Also scheduled for that meeting are reports from chairmen of the Committee for Community Safety and Security and the Committee on the Proposed Water Rate Increase.

Happy Birthday to Frankfort Square's "First Baby," Michael Black, who celebrates his first birthday Saturday. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Black, 313 Greenfield Lane.

Petition for water increase goes before Commerce Commission

CHICAGO — Prestwick Utilities Incorporated, operators of water and sewer services in Prestwick and Frankfort Square, petitioned the Illinois Commerce Commission for a 40 per cent increase in the water and sewer rates they are presently charging. The rate increase request came during a formal hearing before hearing examiners of the ICC held in Chicago on Sept. 20, 1972.

Patrick J. O'Brien, treasurer of Utilities Incorporated which is the owner of Prestwick Utilities, Inc., presented the petition to the Hearing Examiners, P.M. Siegrist; William J. Ide who is the Chief of Water Engineering of the ICC and W.G. Stevens who was a representative of the Finance Section of the ICC, during the three hour session.

O'Brien, under questioning by the Prestwick Utilities Attorney Gene L. Armstrong of the Law Firm of Ishem, Lincoln and Beale of Chicago, presented considerable financial data relating to his firms request for increased rate authorization. The main point of their argument was that Prestwick Utilities could not obtain a fair return on their considerable investment in equipment and service in the area with the present rate structure. He offered as proof of his claim a comparative income statement for the years 1969, 1970 and 1971 showing that in 1969 the rate of return was 3.0 per cent, in 1970 it was 1.6 per cent and in 1971 it was 0.4 per cent. The rate of return noted on the statement claimed that the firm had net earnings for the three years of $24,572.

The ICC Examiners asked O'Brien a number of questions relating to the firms method of arriving at the cost and return computations submitted. After the questioning had ended, it was decided that the ICC Finance Section would do an independent audit of the Prestwick Utilities and Utilities books to determine for itself if the methods used were in compliance with ICC regulations.

Representatives of the Prestwick and Frankfort Square Homeowners Associations were present for these hearings. William J. Flynn, a resident of Prestwick, had been retained by the Frankfort Square Homeowners Association as their attorney. He submitted on their behalf a formal Petition to Intervene as a party to the proceedings as did Fred Bianucci, a resident of Chicago, the attorney retained by the Prestwick Homeowners Association.

Mrs. Mary Vieu was in attendance representing the Frankfort Square Quadminium Homeowners Association. Illinois State Representative George O'Brien (no relation to Patrick O'Brien), a candidate for the U.S. Congress, attended as an observer interested in a matter of concern to his constituents.

Although ICC Regulations prohibit cross examination of petitioners by counsel representing interested parties until after the full Illinois Commerce Commission rules on their Petition to Intervene, Attorney William J. Flynn received limited permission from Hearing Examiner Siegrist to question Patrick O'Brien.

Chairman of the serving Committee is Mrs. Fred Uthe, assisting is Mrs. Eugene Werner and Mrs. Royal Wohlfert.

Oct. 10 - voters' deadline

WILL COUNTY — Clara Hartley Woodard, county clerk of Will County, again reminds county residents who have not yet registered to vote in the presidential election Nov. 7, that they have only a short time to do so.

The deadline for registration is Oct. 10, Mrs. Woodard said.

Persons may register at her office in the court house at Joliet or at one of the registrars she has appointed in the various township.

Mrs. Woodard also announced that she has set the dates of Oct. 6 and Oct. 12 for the refresher courses for all election judges participating in the Nov. 7 election. She urges all judges attend these sessions so they may have a thorough understanding of their duties.

In addition to regular IBM card-type voting there also will be a paper ballot to be counted. Special instructions will be given for the handling of these ballots, Mrs. Woodard said.

The paper ballots will be used in the judicial election. Formerly circuit judges were elected in June, for six year terms. The county and probate judges were elected on the county ticket every four years.

Under the so-called judicial reform act of Illinois the offices of county and probate judges were done away with. In the beginning these two judges were known as associate circuit judges but this has been changed and all are known as circuit judges. Under the law they no longer have to be nominated. The fact they are judges put them on the ballot. This election is now known as the "retention of judges."

Since the voters have no choice to make, judges may be said to have a life term. Former probate judge, Stewart Hutchison, who became an associate circuit judge and later a circuit judge, is retiring. His successor will be appointed by the state supreme court. Then the next time the people vote to retain the judges his name will be on the ballot.

Mrs. Woodard said that if election judges cannot attend the refresher course in their particular area they are strongly urged to attend a session in another area.

New residents of the county are required to register if they want to vote here. Others who need to register, if they are to vote, include those who have changed their name by marriage or court action, it was pointed out. "If you have changed your address," Mrs. Woodard said, "you can return the green voter's card to our office, with your new address on the back, or if you have lost the card, you can send in your name, address, (new and old) to the clerk's office. If you choose you can go there in person."

Registrars listed for local areas are: Frankfort Township: Burnett W. Schram, 205 Ash St., Frankfort; Arlene Santoro, Public Library, 27 Ash Street; Diane L. Ebert, Mokena Sales, Mokena; Dorothy Griffin, 9442 W. Pine St., Arbury Hills; Edna T. Wiegel, 75th

School announces meal policy

MOKENA — Supt. James Ennis, head of the Mokena Public Schools, has announced its free meal policy for children unable to pay the designated price. Local school officials have adopted the following schedule, setting forth the size of the family and its income, to assist them in determining eligibility. This is the same scale used in all school districts, it was pointed out. It reads:

Family Size	Annual Gross Income	Monthly Gross Income
1	$2,420	$201
2	3,180	265
3	3,940	328
4	4,680	390
5	5,380	448
6	6,070	505
7	6,700	568
8	7,330	610
9	7,900	658
10	8,470	705
11	9,040	753
12	9,610	800

Each additional family member $570 yearly, $47 monthly.

Families falling within these scales or those suffering from unusual circumstances or hardships, Supt. Ennis said, or those receiving public assistance are urged to apply for free meals for their youngsters.

Parents may do this by filling in the forms sent home in a letter to parents. Additional copies are available at the principal's office in each school. Applications may be submitted at anytime during the school year, Ennis said.

He pointed out that the form itself is simple to complete and requests information needed to determine economic need.

Students granted recognition

NEW LENOX — Four Lincoln-Way High School students have received letters of commendation from the National Merit Scholarship Corporation for their performance on the 1971 preliminary scholastic aptitude test, it was announced by Assistant Supt. Jonas Lashmet.

The students are Brian Bennett, Ronald Kosary and Sheree Tuttle, all of Mokena, and James Skiniotes of New Lenox.

The NMSC has named 37,000 commended students in the United States. These students are among the upper two percent of those expected to graduate from high school in 1973. The commended students rank high, but below the 15,000 semi-finalists previously announced.

Edward C. Smith, president of National Merit Scholarship Corporation, said that while commended students do not advance any further in the Merit Scholarship competition, their standing in this nationwide program deserves public recognition. Their high performance on the PSAT-NMSQT, he continued, shows promise of continued success in college.

"The commended students should be encouraged to pursue their education," Smith went on, "since their intellectual talent represents an important and much needed natural resource. Both these students and our nation will benefit from their continuing educational development."

The commended students names are reported to the colleges they named as their first and second choices when they took the PSAT-NMSQT in October, 1971. The report includes home addresses, test scores and anticipated college major and career intentions of the commended students. NMSC encourages these students to make every effort to continue their education.

Churches mail anti-drug booklets

NEW LENOX — This week the churches of New Lenox are conducting a direct-mail drug abuse information campaign. Booklets dealing with drug abuse and drug information have been mailed to every residence in New Lenox, according to those in charge.

Responding to the problem that so many adults and young adults have heard only half-truths or erroneous "facts" concerning drugs and drug abuse, thus making them ill-equipped to deal with the problem, the New Lenox clergy decided that a direct-mail campaign would be the most effective toll in getting reliable material and facts to the residents of the community.

"The clergy hopes," a spokesman said, "that these booklets will make it easier for parents and young adults to sit down together and discuss this growing social problem that could strike any home."

The booklet, "Drugs and You," in a cartoon approach, presents hard facts about the major types of drugs now being used, and their effect on the body and mind.

The booklet, "Deciding About Drugs," is addressed to the young adult, encouraging him to take a long, hard look at many of the popular reasons given for taking drugs.

The clergy also recommended that a third booklet, "To Parents About Drugs," be obtained by concerned parents. This booklet may be obtained without charge by containing the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co.

Churches participating in the campaign are Church of the Nazarene, First Baptist, Grace Episcopal, New Lenox Methodist, St. June Roman Catholic and Trinity Lutheran.

'Finian' visits New Lenox

NEW LENOX — Rehearsals are on for Finian's Rainbow, the musical comedy that played New York for 91 weeks, that is to be staged at Lincoln-Way High School music department Oct. 27-28 and Nov. 3-4.

Tickets are now on sale at $1.50 and may be purchased from any member of the Lincoln-Way Choir.

To Janet Tyler goes the part of Sharon McLonergan, who sings that lasting hit, "How Are Things in Glocca Morra." Her stage father, Finian McLonergan, is played by Jim Yarbrough.

Steve Hammond takes the part of the leprechaun who leaves the Emerald Isle to follow Finian to America and the Rainbow Valley farm, where Sharon falls in love with the man who runs it, played by Dean Bresler.

With him she sings the hit song, "Old Devil Moon." Ann LaBotz plays Susan Mahoney, the deaf mute whose dancing feet speak for her, and Davis Schofield, cast as Sunny, the blind harmonica player, dances with her.

Jay Roesel, Mike Bersano, Richard Bonesteel, Harold Bardi, Jeff Nelson and Bill Dean also have strong parts and there is a large supporting cast of singers and dancers.

"Lincoln-Way musicals have been very well done in the past with the result that each year more tickets are in demand and it is a good idea not to wait too long before putting in an order for seats," school officials urge.

School invites parental visits

NEW LENOX — Back to School Night at Lincoln-Way High School will be held tonight, Sept. 27, at 8 o'clock. Parents are asked to report to the auditorium for a general briefing on procedures for the evening's activities.

Following the briefing session parents will have the opportunity to meet their offspring's teachers and to visit classrooms. Parents should remember, according to Assistant Supt. Jonas Lashmet to bring their children's schedules, with teachers names and the room numbers.

Parents will spend about 10 minutes in each of the classes, getting acquainted with the teachers and finding out what the teachers expect.

After the class session parents will attend a coffee hour in the all-purpose room and cafeteria.

Village delays pool ordinance

NEW LENOX — An ordinance covering the fencing of swimming pools at New Lenox has been put over for the time being by the village board. Use of swimming pools drops off at this time of year, it was pointed out, and the BOCA building code, which New Lenox plans to adopt by the first of the year, provides that pools must be surrounded by a four-foot fence with a self locking gate.

John Lektorich, business administrator for the village, said ordinances he has seen that require the fencing of swimming pools, have the same provision as the BOCA code, namely a four-foot fence with a self locking gate.

Garden wedding unites couple

LINCOLN ESTATES — A garden wedding united Debora Lynn Heath and Gene King in marriage at 4 p.m. Aug. 26 at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cal Heath, Jr., North Road, Lincoln Estates. Gene is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. King, 110 Glennell Road, Mokena. Rev. Charles Kepler officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Frank Heath was the organist and accompanied Diane Wadsworth, who sang "Theme From Love Story" and "Somewhere My Love."

The bride, wearing a floor length gown of white organza over taffeta with a train and butterfly sleeves was escorted to the altar by her father. Large butterflies and bouquets were hand embroidered on the sleeves, yoke, and bottom of skirt. At the empire waist and around the choker collar were small butterflies over light blue satin ribbon. Her chapel length veil of nylon tulle had butterfly lace around the edge and tiara of light blue satin ribbon. She carried a bouquet of miniature carnations and baby breathe tinted blue. For something old she wore a petticoat of batiste with embroidered panels put together with tatted lace made by her grandmother. For something borrowed she wore a gold bracelet with rhinestones of her mothers.

Joyce Kluth was maid of honor and Sue Wallace and Bernice Harms were bridesmaids. Their gowns were blue flocked nylon with floral pattern, three shades of blue taffeta under skirts gave the illusion of three different shades of blue. The dresses had a round neck cut low in back, at the empire waist a satin ribbon tied in a bow with streamers in front, long full sleeves with three button cuffs. They wore white garden hats with satin ribbons down the back. Each carried a nosegay of white carnations and yellow daisies with matching blue ribbons. Each wore a cross, a gift of the bride. Jenny and Jody Schiffler, cousins of the bride, were flower girls and were dressed identically to the bride and wore blue satin ribbons in their hair. They carried crocheted baskets and scattered rose petals.

Gary Huttenhoff was best man and Steve Wallace and Jim Webster were groomsmen. Ushers were Dean Bartling, Greg Heath, Ken Knopp and Jody King. Ring bearer was Tracy Heath, brother of the bride, who carried a taffeta pillow.

Mrs. Heath wore a pink linen gown with sheer long full sleeves and beaded lace around the stand-up collar and cuffs. Mrs. King wore a floor length gown of lime green. Both wore corsages of white carnations.

Grandparents attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Schiffler, Manhattan, Mrs. Eva Heath, Lincoln Estates and Mr. and Mrs. Dave Knopp, North Lake.

A reception was held at the American Legion Hall for 300 guests. Karen and Janice Kooiman served the punch and Sharon King and Cindy Clark cut the four-tier wedding cake. Neighbors and friends served the food.

The couple motored to Baraboo, Wis. for three days and are now living at 611 Morgan St., Joliet. Gene is employed at Ford Motor Company.

FRANKFORT — There was an error in the news release last week of the fashion show to be staged Oct. 14, at the Chateau, U.S. 45, Orland Park, under the auspices of the Connecticut Hills Homeowners Association.

The date was right, the place was right, but but the price of the luncheon, $3.50, does not include cocktails as was stated. The price covers the food and the show, but any cocktails are extra.

Laramie School Briefs

Hi! This is Linda Legner and Lauretta Lumkes. We are going to report to you every two weeks about Laramie School happenings. We hope you like our column.

Mr. O'Reilly was really excited about the first baseball game of the year. This was on Tuesday, Sept. 19, which was an away game at Palos. Laramie won 17-4.

Our eighth grade cheerleaders cheered that game. They are: Linda Schranz, Chris Ehrig, Cathy Nealon, Gigg Guerra, Jane Hertel, Barb Strobel, and Sandy Foss. They are very good and we hope they do a good job this year.

During the past week and a half Teen Council elections have been going on. Mr. Raclaw and Miss Sulfigarian are in charge. The eighth graders have candidates for president, 1st vice president and secretary. The seventh graders have candidates for 2nd vice president and treasurer. All the grades have homeroom representatives and alternates.

Tuesday September 19 were the semi-final elections and the final candidates for president are: Glen Leffew, Kristi, Jesk, and Russ Janicke.

The final candidates for 1st vice president are: Ron Nix, Linda Schranz, and Jim Poynton. Secretary: Denise Walsh, Diane Van Wie, and Belinda Clevinger. The final elections are going to be in homeroom on Monday, Sept. 25. We will have the results in our next issue.

On Friday, Sept. 29, the sixth and seventh graders are going to see "The Robin Hood Players" perform "The Prince and the Pauper," in an assembly during school.

Well, that's all for now. See you in two weeks.

Durkin to direct Ogilvie drive

SOUTH COOK COUNTY — Joe Tecson, suburban chairman of the Governor Ogilvie Volunteers, announced this week the appointment of Jerry Pals, South Holland real estate broker and land developer, and Richard Durkin, Tinley Park trustee, as the co-chairmen of the South Suburban Area Volunteers for Governor Ogilvie Re-election Campaign.

The area that Durkin and Pals are responsible for includes the towns of Lemont, Hickory Hills, Palos Hills, Palos Park, Palos Heights, Willow Springs, Orland Park, Westhaven, Robbins, Posen, Crestwood, Midlothian, Markham, Hazelcrest, Country Club Hills, Oak Forest, Tinley Park, Park Forest, Matteson, Richton Park, Riverdale, Dixmoor, Harvey, East Hazelcrest, Thornton, South Holland, Phoenix, Dolton, Burnham, Calumet City, Lansing, Lynwood, Sauk Village, East Chicago Heights, Steger, South Chicago Heights, Chicago Heights, Glenwood and Calumet Park.

Each town in the area has a chairman, co-chairman and a Volunteer for Governor Ogilvie Committee. The response to Governor Ogilvie's re-election campaign has been exceptionally enthusiastic in each one of the towns in the area according to Jerry Pals.

Durkin is a Village Trustee of the Village of Tinley Park, is married and has three children. He is a graduate of the University of Illinois and is a member of St. George Catholic Church in Tinley Park. Mrs. Durkin is active in Girl Scouts and school assistance programs.

In accepting his appointment Durkin quoted: "I believe Governor Ogilvie has recognized the value of local government and his positions on revenue sharing are geared to help communities like Tinley Park help themselves. He has performed well as governor during a most difficult time financially in our state. The governor is willing to share both money as well as the responsibilities with local government as we strive to meet the challenges of our communities in the 1970's."

Pals is a real estate broker and land developer having an office in South

Holland. He attended Calvin College in Grand Rapids, Mich. and is presently a member of the South Suburban Board of Realtors as well as Illinois and National Board of Realtors.

JERRY PALS

this campaign can volunteer their services by calling Pals — 339-1020, 331-8587 or Dick Durkin — 822-5005, 532-8253.

He is a member of the Chicago Chamber of Commerce and has served in the past as Chairman of community drives for the March of Dimes, Crusade of Mercy, Heart Fund. He was a chairman of the South Holland Industrial Development Commission. Presently Pals is a member of Governor Ogilvie's Council of Vocational Education.

In accepting his appointment to this position Pals stated "The message we hope to convey to the people of the South Suburban area is the accomplishments of the Ogilvie Administration. Governor Ogilvie, during his administration, has made tremendous strides in doubling state aid to elementary and high schools as well as increasing the aid to higher education. His anti-pollution record is without equal as well as his mental and health care programs.

"Governor Ogilvie's revenue sharing program has saved many villages in the south suburban area from curtailing services to the point of endangering safety and the well being of many communities as is attested to by the number of mayors who are supporting Governor Ogilvie from the south suburban area."

Parents visit center, study new services

SOUTHWEST — "Know Your Teacher" was the theme of the parents night held recently at the Prevocational Training Center, 184th and Central Ave., Country Club Hills. Martin Fox, program coordinator at the Center introduced Benjamin Braun, director of the Southwest Cook County Cooperative, Dick Kopecky, vocational director, Margaret Hale, EMH-TMH supervisor, teachers Donna Wolf, Joan Cahnman and Henry Luers, aides Ann LaChance, Carol Zimmy, Jean Fletcher and Cam Parker.

Fox outlined this year's program which will include four major learning blocks: academics of a functional nature including visual and auditory discrimination, listening and speaking skills, reading, writing, math, and science and an overview of our American heritage; Home economics including cooking, sewing, personal grooming, and home maintenance; arts and crafts; production, including basic concepts of sub-contracting, strong work attitudes, and social skills necessary for a total work experience outside of a public school program.

Ben Braun and Kopecky outlined the continuing role of the Division of Vocational Rehabilitation during the students' school experience as well as during the year immediately following their 21st birthday.

Parents were asked to suggest areas in which they felt students could profit from expanded services. Suggestions included a year round recreation program, cooperation with other training centers in socializing experiences, establishing car pools for social functions, and soliciting the community for jobs and sub-contracting work for the Center.

Socialist to attend class

PALOS HILLS — Louis Fisher, Socialist Labor Party candidate for presidency, will visit the social science classes at Moraine Valley Community College, 10900 S. 88th Ave., Room 1502 at 9 p.m. Monday, Oct. 2.

"The presidential election this year presents an ideal opportunity for social science classes to explore political philosophies in the United States," said Henry Allan, associate professor at the College.

"The class will be introduced to political perspectives and concepts that are liberal, conservative and middle-of-the road. In some cases, political party representatives will appear in person.

At other times, films, tapes and videotapes will be shown," Allan said.

Lite-A-Bike, a reflector tape, will be placed free of charge of the back of bicycles by members of the VFW and Jaycees from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 30, at the VFW Post located at 17141 S. Oak Park Ave.

District 230 board studies use of swim facilities

PALOS HILLS — Sealed bids for the purchase of $875,000.00 worth of Life Safety Bonds were opened and presented to the school Board of Education of Consolidated District 230 Monday night, Sept. 25.

The contract was awarded to the First National Bank of Evergreen Park and the Orland Park State Bank, which in a combined offer, proposed an over-all interest rate of 4.70228 per cent. The loan is repayable over a period of 10 years: 1973 to 1983. This will be done with taxes collected within the school district.

Sale of the of the Life Safety Bonds will enable both Carl Sandburg and Amos Alonzo Stagg High Schools to complete recommended corrections necessary to meet requirements of the State of Illinois' Life Safety Code. Some improvements to be made in the schools are new fire alarm systems and life prevention and safety measures.

Other business conducted at the meeting included winter age group (competitive) swimming. Aquatic Directors Richard Schackel and Thomas Bona of the Palos-Orland and Hickory-Willow Swim Associations have consulted with Superintendent W.O. Fisher in regard to the possibility of such a program within District 230.

Winter competitive swimming will involve daily work-out sessions. To make school facilities available, it is proposed that a $35.00 work-out ticket, good for admission to work-out sessions only, would be required. This ticket would be non-refundable and non-transferable. It would be valid to April 15, 1973. "Large Family" tickets are recommended as follows: one participant, $35.00; two participants, $52.50 and three or more, $52.50. These in the program also could pay by buying a regular punch ticket at $7.50, $10.00 or $20.00, which would mean a daily fee of 75 cents per session.

Summer age group swimming would continue to remain as it is, with a 75 cents-per session fee.

Mrs. J. F. Orsic of Worth spoke in favor of the proposed winter swimming program, saying that the children are not participating in the sport only "for fun."

"If you could see them working out, you'd realize how important this is to them. Also, Mr. Schackel and Mr. Bona have done a fantastic job, working with these kids. This is essential if we want good swim teams," she said. Her son, Scot, is a freshman at Stagg High School.

According to Superintendent Fisher, non-residents of the district present a problem, since too many discourage local children. There are three possible approaches: do not permit participation of non-residents; ignore non-residency issue entirely or charge a non-residency fee of $25.00 for one student, $12.50 for a second and nothing for a third.

The entire matter of the program will be further discussed by a committee, which will give a complete report to the board on Oct. 9.

Also taken into account at the meeting were the new sewer and water line costs. Fisher reported that Smetana Builders of Orland Park has agreed to pay the school district 50 per cent of the cost of the line from Orland Park to the north-west edge of the builder's property.

The builder then will share in future receipts in the same proportion of their original investment to the project. The sewer line was specifically over-sized (over twice as large as necessary) to serve the school's needs) in order to accommodate the large, undeveloped area owned by Smetana.

The final cost of the sewer and water line will be determined by construction costs, legal fees (including permits and inspection), engineering fees, the district's administrative overhead, interest on monies and any projected operating costs. One this figure is available, payments due the school district from Smetana Builders can be calculated. Supt. Fisher is presently investigating similar circumstances, and will give a full report and make recommendations at the next general meeting of the board.

Current students best in test

PALOS HILLS — Those enrolled in College Level Examination Program seminars at Moraine Valley Community College include nurses, housewives, cost accountants, village officials, students, engineers, bookkeepers, sales managers, teachers, file clerks, business executives and others. According to Henry Allan, MVCC associate professor and CLEP coordinator, more than 50 occupations were indicated by students who have participated in the three CLEP seminars offered to date.

Allan, in a report to the MVCC board of trustees, discussed development of the program at the college. "Of the 41 persons enrolled in the first seminar, 20 took CLEP exams in May, 1972. All but one earned college credits," he said.

"As an experiment, we admitted 13 persons to the exams without benefit of the seminar. Of this group, nine earned college credits."

Allan told the trustees that high school seniors and registered college students had more success with the exams than older persons who had been out of school for a period of time. Presently, 62 students are enrolled in two seminars.

In regular board business, the trustees approved the 1972-73 budget and adopted the 1972 tax levy. Payment of bills were authorized for $344,971.33 from the educational fund; $44,234.65 from the building fund; $4,234.58 from the site and construction fund; $54,438.14 from the auxiliary fund; and $963.34 from the restricted purposes fund.

The board accepted three wall display cases that were presented by the college's Student Congress. They will be placed in campus lounge areas for staff and student use.

The governing board meets at 8 p.m. on the fourth Tuesday of each month in the 200 Building on the college campus, 10900 S. 88th Ave., Palos Hills. Meetings are open to the public.

Sieden to elect leaders

MATTESON — Three young politicians will complete a week of intensive presidential campaigning Friday morning during the election of Sieden Prairie School Student Council officers.

The Student Council will elect officers for the coming year at a school assembly Friday morning. Each candidate will make a short speech before the students. Balloting will follow. The students have conducted a week-long campaign and poster making this week.

The council is composed of students from eighth grade plus elected representatives from grades five, six and seven. The presidential candidates are Tom Langley, Karen Brown and James Roppo.

Other candidates include Ed Lis, Scott Pleckham and Jeff Eller, vice president; Debbie Hansen, Mark Radow and Greg Rzag, treasurer.

Also Debbie Melfi and Debbie Grotzbach, secretary; and Ed Stack, Gregg Adams and Richard Shewmake, sergeant-at-arms.

Eighth grade instructor Miss Rita Christensen, Student Council faculty sponsor, said she hopes this year's Student Council will be an active one in providing leadership, school spirit and worthwhile activities for the entire student body throughout the school year.

Palos sewer line ready

PALOS TOWNSHIP — At the Sept. 12 meeting of the South Palos Township Sanitary District, Walter Wilson, engineer, stated that the Metropolitan Sanitary District has completed inspection of the interceptor line under the Sag canal. He further reported that the South Palos Sanitary Sewer System is completed and waiting for approval.

W. J. King, president, stated that the board of trustees will contact the Metropolitan Sanitary District for early approval. He also advised that the district has rented a trailer office to service the homeowners, and that office hours will be announced shortly.

Bob Price, trustee, reported that the Cook County and South Palos Sanitary inspectors will make a joint tie-in or connection inspection, but all ordinance and permits will be made by the South Palos Sanitary District. These will be available at the District office.

Patrick Lucansky, district lawyer stated that the court approved the annexation of Palos Park residents who are adjacent to the Sanitary district and who were in the district prior to the filing of the suit by the Village of Palos Park. The village has now withdrawn their suit and work will be started and completed in that area within the next month. This should not affect the inspection of the sewer system by the Metropolitan Sanitary District engineers.

W. J. King stated that there has been some changes made in the statutes and one is that the Board of County Commissioners must approve the appointment of trustees to the board of the South Palos Township Sanitary District. A letter has been received, dated Aug. 7, from President George W. Dunne, Cook County Board of Commissioners, reappointing Robert Price as trustee of the South Palos Township Sanitary District to the term expiring June 1975. The appointment was approved by the Board of County Commissioners.

The next meeting of the South Palos Township Sanitary District is scheduled for Tuesday, Oct. 10 at 8 p.m. at the District Office (trailer) 129th Street and 82nd Avenue (north of 131st) Palos Township.

Knights lose; add third injury

EVERGREEN PARK — A Southwest Suburban Conference opener Saturday added not only another defeat to the Lincoln-Way High School Knights' tally but also tacked another name on the team's "injured indefinitely" list.

The Knights bowed to the Evergreen Park High School team 16-6 in the second period. A 79 yard pass put them ahead in the tally, 6-0, at the end of the first half.

Rich Chereskin and Joe Bolek were sidelined during the action with knee injuries. They join injured Brian Fischer who took season's leave last Saturday as a result of an injury during competition with the Tinley Park High School squad.

The injuries have justifiably disappointed Knights' coach Joe Rodriguez who had had high hopes for this season's team. The squad posted a 3-5 record during 1971 competition.

During Saturday's activity, scoring belonged to Evergreen Park. The Lincoln-Way team managed its only touchdown during the final quarter.

Early in the first quarter, Mustang's Ken Zintak scored with a 17 yard run. A successful kick gave Evergreen Park the lead 7-0.

The Mustang's second period scoring came with 6:02 remaining in the quarter. Defensive lineman Ken Wainwright managed a 60 yard fumble recovery to set the score at 13-0.

A successful field goal late in the third quarter gave the Mustang's their final scoring of the game and set the tally at 16-0.

In fourth quarter play, with six seconds remaining, Knight runningback Tim Virden grabbed the ball on a pass from quarterback Andy Jones and brought in the six Lincoln-Way points.

Lincoln-Way stayed close to the Evergreen Park team in statistics. While the Mustangs attained 10 first downs, the Knights managed six. Evergreen Park gained a total of 195 yards, 138 in rushing and 57 passing. Meanwhile, Lincoln managed a total of 158 yards, 114 rushing and 44 passing.

Three fumbles on the part of Lincoln-Way contributed to the Mustang's success.

In frosh-soph activity, Evergreen Park topped the Knights 12-0.

Titans score second win

LANSING — The Titans of Tinley Park High School scored their first Southeast Suburban Conference win of the 1972 season Saturday with a 21-12 victory over Thornton Fractional South.

For the Titans it was the second win of the season. In last weekend's non-conference action they topped the Lincoln-Way High School Knights 34-0.

Though neither team managed points during the first quarter of play, the Thornton squad took the lead during the second period. A 79 yard pass put them ahead in the tally, 6-0, at the end of the first half.

During the third period the Thornton team gained another touchdown on a 57 yard pass. The Titan Spirit surged, however, and Charles Skinulis latched on to a 19 yard pass from quarterback Ed Neal. Terry Shannon brought in the extra point with a successful kick bringing the score to 12-7 at the end of the third period.

In the final quarter the Titans moved forward for the victory. Skinulis brought home another touchdown on a three yard run. Dan Bulow jogged down the field on a 43 yard run for another touchdown. Skinulis added another two points on a successful conversion pass from Neal.

The Titans meet Crete-Monee in Southeast Conference action at home this Saturday.

Sandburg cross country tops Eisenhower

ORLAND PARK — The Carl Sandburg cross country team defeated Eisenhower of Blue Island last Tuesday, 25-30. Gary Chambers and Mark Kopruchi finished one, two for Eisenhower in the three-mile race, but the next five were Sandburg harriers.

Tim Close, Steve Paschall, Tom Page, Brian Dotson and John Smith finished in that order behind the two Eisenhower runners, making it impossible for Eisenhower to win. This was the Eagle's first victory after three straight losses this season.

The Eagles, later in the week, defeated Lemont and Sandwich in dual meets by scores of 15-40 and 25-30. This boosted the Eagle harriers record to 3-3 for the season. According to Coach John Wilson, "The Eagles are showing much improvement with these three straight victories and should be tougher to beat as each week goes on."

The harriers had their first conference meet Tuesday against Oak Lawn and Thursday, Sept. 28, will face Lincoln-Way at 4 p.m. at Lincoln-Way in New Lenox.

Eagles lose to H-F in SWS play, 20-7

FLOSSMOOR — Saturday, the Carl Sandburg Eagles lost to the new powerhouse team of the Southwest Suburban League, Homewood Flossmoor, 20-7.

The Eagles wanted to win this game because of Homewood's galling 12-3 victory over them last year. However, Homewood's million dollar backfield lived up to its name by ripping through the Sandburg defense for 273 yards rushing and 66 yards passing.

Dave Balwin, Mark Schultz and Jim Dacarkis made up Homewood's talented backfield. Although each boy scored a touchdown, Dacarkis picked up 140 yards to be the game's leading rusher.

Many Sandburg fans turned out for the game in hopes of seeing the Eagles break Homewood's nine game winning streak but left the game with the thought that Homewood Flossmoor may not be beaten this year.

The Eagles, after falling behind early in the game, 14-0, came fighting back.

Billy Nelson, getting the starting call at quarterback for the Eagles, looked impressive when he connected with junior tight end Steve Lietke for a 39-yard touchdown pass. Nelson completed five of eight passes for 111 yards. The most surprising fact of the game was that the Eagles could only gain 32 yards on the ground. The ground game, which has won so many ball games for the Eagles in the past was totally stopped.

Coach Cliff Eade said after the game he thought "his boys played well on the whole but were just outclassed." To add to Coach Eade's miseries, Bill Hammertree, the Eagles' outstanding halfback and linebacker, injured his heel early in the game and will be a doubtful starter for Friday night's home opener against Oak Lawn.

Hammertree has started on the varsity since he was a sophomore. Coach Eade added that the team needs additional work this week for Friday's game. Kickoff time will be 8 p.m. at Orland Park.

Junior Tom Carey scored the only touchdown for the Providence Celtics Saturday against the Thornwood Thunderbirds. Carey, who scored on a pass from quarterback Dick Mandella, is brought down by a T-bird player as he crosses the line for the td. Providence lost 48-8.

Girls set five meets

ORLAND PARK — This year, the Carl Sandburg High School girls swim team, which was formed three years ago, will participate in five meets instead of two as in previous years. Their opponents will be Thornwood, Hillcrest, Homewood Flossmoor, Oak Lawn and Reavis.

According to Coach Barbara Geyer, "This year's team should be very good. I plan a hard workout for the girls, which should result in a majority of top swimmers."

Coach Barbara Geyer thought the big turnout this year indicates a lot of enthusiasm behind the team. "The number of girls out is about 75 but only 25 to 30 will actually make the team," Coach Geyer reports.

The first meet will be Thursday, Sept. 28, against Homewood Flossmoor.

Celtics bow to T-Birds

DOLTON — Sitting on the sidelines early Saturday afternoon watching the Providence High School frosh-soph football team go down in a 56-0 defeat to the jayvee team of Thornwood High School, Celtics' assistant coach Pat McInerney leaned over to head coach Matt Senffner and said, "I hope this isn't a prelude to the varsity, coach."

Well, by the end of that afternoon's varsity action, another 56 points had been scored and the Celtics lead team fared a little better than the jayvee counterparts. Still, it wasn't a winning afternoon for the Celtics as the varsity bowed 48-8.

Despite good action in the passing arena, the Celtics were unable to gain sufficient yardage for points. They scored only once, on a third quarter pass from quarterback Dick Mandella to Tom Carey. On the charts, however, the Providence squad scored a total of 101 yards on passing compared to 33 for the Thornwood Thunderbirds.

It was ground action that most crippled the Celtics. By game's end they rated a minus three yards in rushing compared to 187 yards for the T-birds.

Meanwhile, the Celtics defense was unable to hold back the scoring action of the Thunderbirds. Thornwood managed two touchdowns and two conversions during the first period and entered the second quarter with a 16-0 margin.

The Thunderbirds were quick to score again with another successful conversion and boosted their margin to 24-0 at the buzzer ending the first half.

Early in the second half, Carey latched onto Mandella's 32-yard pass and the Celtics regained their fighting spirit. On a conversion pass, Mandella discovered Frank Ruettiger and the Celtics gained scoreboard recognition with eight points.

Thornwood was not to be discouraged, however, as they picked up the kickoff seconds later and trotted down the field for another touchdown followed by two more points after touchdown.

Toward the end of the third quarter, the Thunderbirds repeated their scoring performance and brought the tally to 40-8 with a win.

In statistics, Providence managed only five first downs compared to 11 for Thornwood. Twice the Celtics gave up the ball on fumbles; the T-birds fumbled the ball away once.

Penalties against Thornwood were of benefit to the Providence squad and provided it with the opportunity for its one touchdown.

Wildcats score 50-0 victory

ORLAND PARK — The St. Michael Wildcats under Coach Bob Price wiped out Our Lady of Scotland Sunday, 50-0.

The Wildcats scored early when Our Lady of Scotland fumbled deep in its own territory. Mike Helper of the Wildcats scored on a sweep the next play.

The Wildcats then kicked off and Our Lady of Scotland fumbled and St. Mike's recovered again. This set up Billy Lyons four plays later with another St. Mike T.D. Lyons led the running backs with over 140 yards gained and two touchdowns.

According to Coach Price, "The Wildcats played just beautifully. The offense and defense did a great job." Coach Bob Price also added, "This is the best team I have ever coached at St. Michaels, and if the key players stay healthy, there is no way anyone can beat them."

Weidling claims 'foul'

WILL COUNTY — Roy Hassert, chairman of the Will County Board, submitted a list of commission appointments at the last regular session of the board on Sept. 12, all of the appointments were confirmed. They are as follows:

Donald Eibling as assistant Will County Planner; to the Will County regional Planning Commission; Professor Paul Leinberger, C.C. Allen, Mayor Maurice Berlinsky of Joliet, Mayor Frank Berta, Mrs. William H. Vandiver of Bolingbrook, Burton Breidert of Frankfort, Earl Meisinger, Jack Minzing, Edwar Cindrich, Lookport Mayor George Nordstrom, and Mrs. Doris Dalton.

To the Will County Board of Health, Albert Krusemark Jr., to a 3 year term, Milo S. Denick to a 3 year term and William Starnes as Liaison for County Board Members.

Will County Welfare and Services Committee, Mrs. Ralph Murphy to a three year term, Raymond Schroeder, Mrs. Jean Werner and Ellsworth Workman all to three year terms. To the Will County Advisory Board: Mrs. Ralph Murphy for three years. To the Building

Board of Appeals: Mr. James Clarage of Lockport for five years. To the Silver Cross Hospital Board of Trustees, Sam H. Paul, County Court Clerk for one year, John E. Francis and Edward Lively for one year terms.

Robert Weidling of Wilmington, vice-chairman of the County Board, charged after the meeting that Hassert had violated provisions of the temporary rules of the board by failing to consult with him regarding the submitted appointments.

According to Weidling, the temporary rules require that the chairman shall consult with the vice-chairman on all appointments to be made to any commissions by the chairman. Weidling stated that at no time did Hassert advise or consult with him regarding his proposals submitted and approved on September 12.

The temporary rules of the county board were supposed to have been adopted as permanent rules on June 12, according to an approved motion passed at the board meeting in May. Hassert has avoided calling the matter to a vote each time the board has met.

A THOUGHT TO REMEMBER BY JIM HIRSCH

Everyone likes to get pleasant letters from mother, dad, brother, sister, son, daughter, former neighbors or old time friends. Since this is so, why do so many of us 'hate' to write a letter? A pleasant, sincere letter, written in simple words — even if scribbled — can mean a lot to the person who receives it. One does not have to write in Solomon's style: "A word fitly spoken is like apples of gold in a picture of silver." Fancy, superior or pretentious words are not needed in a letter to family or friends. One does not have to be a master of words. Instead, small, simple words can and should be your servant. Every day language will do — any day.

Do you 'owe' some one a letter? Why not get it off today? Or — why not write a letter you have been wanting to write — regardless of who 'owes' a letter. Writing a letter can make life more interesting, more inspiring for you AND the other person... And incidentally, thanks to those of you who have taken the time to write to us, either pro or con, about the thoughts you read here. Such letters are always welcome — and helpful...

Farm Bureau aims to save law

BLOOMINGTON — The Illinois Agricultural Association will attempt to intervene in a court case that challenges the constitutionality of a new state law exempting all tangible personal property used in farming from the personal property tax.

Target of the intervention attempt is a lawsuit filed in the circuit court of Cook County by Elk Grove Engineering Co., and others, against Bernard Korzen, Cook County collector and county treasurer, and others. The suit attacks the constitutionality of House Bill 3776, signed into law by Gov. Ogilvie July 19, 1972.

The new law, supported by the IAA, provides that all tangible personal property which is used by the owner in farming shall be exempt from taxation. The law removes the personal property tax from farm properties such as livestock, grain, farm machinery and various other items used in the operation of a farm.

The plaintiffs in the suit claim that the new law is unconstitutional on the basis that it "violates both the Illinois and U. S. constitutions by denial of the due process of law and equal protection of the law."

IAA General Counsel Gordon Adler has been authorized by the IAA board of directors to attempt to intervene on the side of the defendants in an effort to convince the court to uphold the constitutionality of the new law.

Adler said the motion to the judge requesting permission to intervene will be filed late this month. If the request is granted, Adler said, further action will be filed by the IAA. The IAA has been active for several years in seeking relief for farmer from the personal property tax.

Nazarenes tell ministry

NEW LENOX — The Church of the Nazarene, New Lenox, will begin special Evangelistic services Tuesday, Oct. 3 and to continue through Sunday, Oct. 8.

The church, located at the corner of Cedar Road and Wood Street, will have services each night at 7:30 and Sunday morning at 10:45.

The special workers for the campaign are Evangelist George Gardner and Prof. Ray Moore. Evangelist Gardner is a graduate of Bethany Nazarene College, Bethany, Okla. Soon after his graduation, he entered the field of Evangelism. He served for a period of two years as the director of Financial Development at Mid-America Nazarene College, during the beginning months of the school.

Outstanding in his ministry is his ability to quote scripture. Frequently the major portion of his sermon is paraphrased of exact quotations from the King James version of the Bible.

Prof. Ray Moore is now serving on the music staff of Olivet Nazarene College, Kankakee. He is nationally known for his musical ministry on "Showers of Blessings", a national radio program of the church. He will be the special singer for the services and also director of music.

The minister, Rev. V. J. Shetler and members of the church extend an invitation to everyone to attend these special services.

Who Passed Away 1 Year Ago
September 26, 1972
We cannot say and we will not say
That he is dead; he is just away.
With a cheery smile and a wave of his hand
He left us dreaming
How very fair
His needs must be
Since he lingers there
So think of him fairing on
As dear in love of there as the love of here.
We think of him still as the same
And we say He is not dead
He is just away.

Civil Defense offers aid class

OAK FOREST — For only $1.35 to cover the cost of a textbook and bandages, at least 35 interested residents of Oak Forest will learn how to save their fellow man.

The first aid course is being taught at the Civil Defense Center, 5301 W. 157th
St., Oak Forest, every Wednesday night for the next 12 weeks.

The course is divided into two sections; the standard course, lasting five weeks, and the advanced course which follows the standard course for an additional eight weeks. Each nightly session lasts for two hours.

"I feel one of the greatest honors and rewards a person can receive is by saving somebody else's life," said Delbert "Sparky" Baine, instructor for the course.

Sparky started teaching first aid ten years ago after he and four other firemen from the Markham Fire Department decided to learn more about their job. Since then he has taught about 15 first aid classes.

To qualify for a certificate from the American Red Cross, you can only miss one session, Sparky said.

You must also pass a 58 question test at the end of the first five weeks. On the fourth week he prepares you for the final exam.

"I want to conduct a class so we can have a good time and learn something," Sparky said. "I do not judge a person solely on a written test. But you (the class) have to have enough knowledge to tell someone else how to administer first aid if you can't," he added.

To qualify for the standard course you have to be at least 14 years old. The advanced course, open to person's 15 or older, teaches the finer details of the body. Understanding the functions of the human system aids them in doing first aid work, Sparky said.

The third course taught by the Red Cross is the instructors course. With the standard and advanced courses, a person must renew their first aid certificates once every three years. To be an instructor, a person must teach a first-aid course at least once a year.

Dan Squire, 31, 16885 LeClaire, took the instructor's course last year. He will instruct the course at the civil defense center for the next two weeks. Sparky will be in Hawaii celebrating his 30th anniversary.

Vote set on Yunker building

MOKENA — On Oct. 7 — which is a week from Saturday — voters of the village of Mokena will have an opportunity to voice their opinion on the purchase of the Walter Yunker building 11120 Front Street, as proposed by the village board.

This is a brick structure, built as a garage to store equipment used by Yunker as township highway commissioner and for the trucks and equipment he uses in his own excavating and earth moving business. There is also office space at the front.

The village would use the garage section for its trucks, machinery, and police cars, and the police department would use the office portion as its headquarters, now located in a house next door to the village hall.

The village board has reached an agreement under which it can purchase the garage building for $75,000, to be paid for over a period of not more than 20-years at a rate of interest not to exceed six per cent.

The village hall at 10940 Front Street, will serve as the polling place and the polls will be open from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m.
According to Trustee Marvin

Homerding, chairman of the board's finance committee, it is estimated that a 12 cent tax rate will be required the first year. To offset this two five cent rates have been eliminated from the tax levy, leaving the net rate increase at two cents, or $2 on a property with an assessed value of $10,000.

Turkey dinner

ORLAND PARK — The Annual Turkey Dinner, served by the women of the United Methodist Church, will be held Saturday, Oct. 14, in the church dining room. Servings will be at 5, 6, and 7 p.m., and reservations must be obtained by calling one of these numbers:
for 5 p.m. serving, 349-8697; for 6 p.m.
serving, 349-3045; for 7 p.m. serving, 349-89045.

Freshmen win

Flossmoor — The Carl Sandburg freshmen "A" team played its first conference game Saturday and won 18-0.

The Eagles got their first touchdown when Homewood-Flossmoor fumbled early in the first quarter and three plays later the Eagles scored. Sandburg scored two more times and went on to win 18-0.

Meet Woodsy Owl. He represents a major step forward in our fight against pollution.

A major step forward in getting our smoggy skies blue again. A major step forward in saving our forests, lakes and wildlife. And a major step forward in improving the quality of our environment. You'll be seeing and hearing a lot about Woodsy. He knows how you can fight pollution...and he needs your help.

Woodsy has a hooter. When he blows it, it goes Hoot! A Hoot is a pollution stopper. Some of Woodsy's Hoots are: Trees make many things possible, plant a tree. Recycle all cans, bottles and papers. Man paints houses only nature should paint forests. Sh sh sh sh sh...noise pollutes too. Trees and flowers can't hold their breath...smog's a killer. Tuned engines mean less smog. Keep your engines tuned.

In months to come you'll be hearing many more Hoots...over one hundred. If you have good Hoots...practical ways people can fight pollution, send them to Woodsy Owl, U.S. Forest Service, Washington, D.C. 20250.

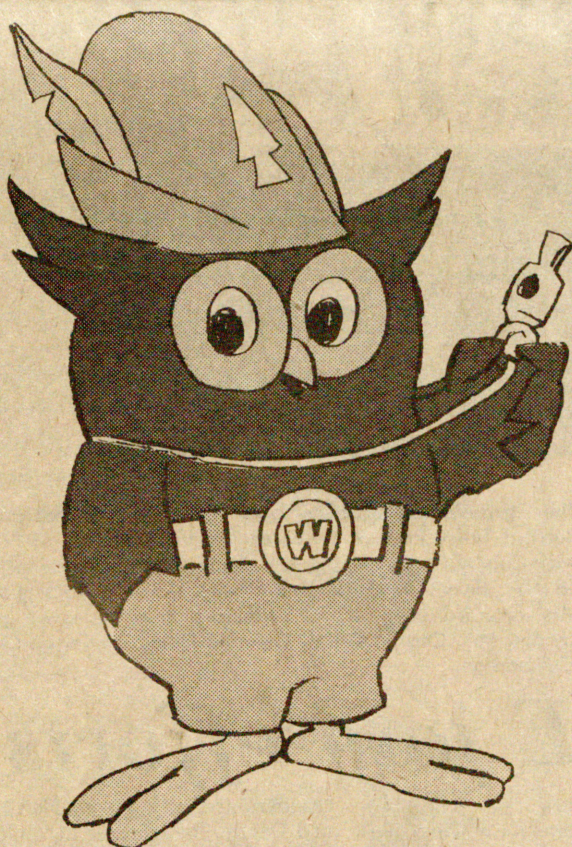

Give a hoot! Don't pollute.

Sweet tooth to aid blind

TINLEY PARK — John Housinger, president of the Tinley Park Lions Club, recently announced the traditional Lions candy day for the benefit of the Illinois Lions Blind Activities program will be conducted Oct. 6 and 7 this year.

In recognition of this village Pres. John T. Dunn has proclaimed the week of October 1st through 7th as Lions Week For the Visually Handicapped with a special emphasis on the Candy Day For the Blind (Oct. 6).

Dunn also urges all citizens to support the campaign of the Chicagoland Lions Clubs for this cause.

According to Housinger, each candy roll exchanged will help the Lions continue to assure the Tinley Park Clubs continuing aid to the blind and handicapped of this area.

Among the causes Candy Day will help to support are: the blind and handicapped of Tinley Park, The Illinois Society for the Prevention of Blindness, the Hadley School for the Blind and Recording for the Blind located in Orland Park.

Chest campaign to start

OAK FOREST — The 1972 Community Chest will kick off their fund raising drive beginning Oct. 1. The drive will continue for four weeks.

This year the drive will be headed by committee Chairman Robert Lemon. The campaign will consist mainly of direct mail solicitations to all area residents and businesses.

Proceeds from the fund drive this year will go to local Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Family Services, South Suburban Homemakers, Handy Camp Association for the mentally handicapped and the Harvey YMCA.

These have refunds due

SPRINGFIELD — The Illinois Department of Revenue is attempting to locate nearly 6,000 taxpayers whose refunds have been returned to the Post Office as undeliverable, State Revenue

GOP to dance

MIDLOTHIAN — The Bremen Township Regular Republican's Organization's annual dinner-dance will be held Saturday, Oct. 14, at Cavallini's, 3845 W. 147th St. Cocktails will be from 6:30-7:30 p.m. and dinner will be served from 7:30-9 p.m. Dancing to the music of a four-piece orchestra will continue to midnight.

The $15 ticket price includes dinner, dancing, and all beverages and are available from precinct captains, coordinators and other Republican officials.

Many state, county and local candidates are expected to attend.

Director George E. Mahin announced last week.

"If the refund recipients are not found, their unclaimed refund checks will be voided and the Department of Revenue will credit the amount to the taxpayers' accounts," Mahin said.

Taxpayers whose names appear in the following list can claim their refunds by writing to the Tax Processing Center, Department of Revenue, Box 3747, Springfield, Ill. 62708.

The taxpayer should send his name, Social Security number, and present address.

Local residents who should claim their refunds are: Theodore R. Tobians, 4941 W. 149th St., Oak Forest; Marsha Mercier, 4701 W. 151st St., Oak Forest; John Harrington, 17200 71st Ave., Bldg. 3 Apt. 4, Tinley Park; and Margrit Braschler, 14455 LGrange Rd. Apt. 11, Orland Park.

The council is composed of three representatives from the Illinois State Dental Society, Illinois Optometric Association, Illinois Association of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons, Illinois Podiatry Society and Illinois State Veterinary Medical Association. The council meets monthly to discuss concerns of the five contributing organizations.

Installation of Dr. Patterson, other members of the council and the council's recently elected officers was conducted Saturday evening, Sept. 23, at the Swedish Club of Chicago.
